Section A

(Reading – 20M)

Q.1 Read the passage given below and answer the following questions: 20

The habit of reading is one of the greatest resources of mankind. But your own books belong to you; you treat them with that affectionate intimacy that annihilates formality. Books are for use, not for show; you should own no book that you are afraid to mark up, or afraid to place on the table, wide open and face down. A good reason for marking favorite passages in books is that this practice enables you to remember more easily the significant sayings, to refer to them quickly, and then in later years, it is like visiting a forest where you once blazed a trail.

Answer the following

(a) What is described as one of the greatest resources of mankind? 1

(b) Why should books be used rather than kept for show? 1

(c) What does the writer suggest readers should not be afraid to do with their books? 1

Q.8. Read the extract and answer the following questions:

10

Our science is an abstract cold and brief
That cuts in formulas the living whole.
It has a brain and head but not a soul:
It sees all things in outward carved relief.
But how without its depths can the world be known?
The visible has its roots in the unseen
And each invisible hides what it can mean
In a yet deeper invisible, unsown.
